Art Works Gallery

921 Noble Street, 256-237-1259

www.artworks-anniston.com

The opening of our new art exhibition on August 5th included the start of a special sales event benefitting East Alabama Artists, Inc. and the programs this group supports. Members have discounted some items with all, or part, of the proceeds going to EAAI. This is an opportunity to purchase original art, including fine craft items, at attractive prices.

Works offered include carved and painted gourds, clay works, fiber, paper books, photographs, jewelry, and two dimensional works in a variety of media. The members are also offering several pieces by other artists from their personal collections. This special event will run through August or until the special offerings are gone.

A few months ago Art Works welcomed new artist Deborah Brogi. Deborah works in the recently developed medium Precious Metal Clay. She fashions jewelry that is over 99% pure silver when finished. Her work is skillfully crafted, but with a nice hand made quality. This really is wearable sculpture!

Also, joining Art Works this month is second generation Abstract Expressionist Max Norton. Max's works are large scale, dynamic, and expressive Acrylics on canvas. This is something different for Anniston.
